About the Lecturer

Dr. Lisa Barnes
Associate Professor of Neurological
Sciences and Behavioral
Sciences

Lisa Barnes is an associate professor in the departments of Neurological Sciences and Behavioral Sciences at Rush University Medical Center and a cognitive neuropsychologist in the Rush Alzheimer's Disease Center. She received her Ph.D. in biopsychology from the University of Michigan and completed a post-doctoral fellowship at UC-Davis in cognitive neuroscience. Her research interests include health disparities among older Blacks and Whites, and psychosocial risk factors for cognitive decline and Alzheimer's disease.

Dr. Barnes is the Principal Investigator of a community-based longitudinal study of cognitive decline in over 400 older Blacks called the Minority Aging Research Study and the Co-Principal Investigator of the Rush Alzheimer's Disease Center Clinical Core Study. She is funded by the National Institute on Aging and the Alzheimer's Association and has published extensively on studies of race, risk factors for cognitive decline, and health disparities in cognitive aging among older Blacks and Whites.

The Farrell Learning and Teaching Center, #223, is circled in red. A parking garage, #240, is circled in yellow. From Kingshighway, turn east on Barnes-Jewish Hospital Plaza and make a right to enter the parking garage. The Farrell Center is at 520 S. Euclid. Valet parking will be available on Euclid in front of the Farrell Center for a fee. Parking in the indicated garage will be validated.
